

HONDA

Congratulation for your nice Honda. I have one myself and I love it.

Here is a little advice in case you did not have time to read the Instruction Manual. Our car maker has made our car with an intelligent locking device. We only need to press the locking device button ONCE and it locks the car. We do not need to press the button twice, otherwise it will blow the horn. The intent is that it is to be used only if we do not remember if we locked the car in the first place. By pressing the button twice, we are telling my neighbors that we often forget that we locked the car or they might think we are honking on purpose. Since I would not want my neighbors to think that I forget often or that I am doing it on purpose, kindly press on the button ONCE please.

Thank You!

HornFree.org

HONDA

Congratulation for your nice Honda. I have one myself and I love it.

Here is a little advice in case you did not have time to read the Instruction Manual. Our car maker has made our car with an intelligent locking device. We only need to press the locking device button ONCE and it locks the car. We do not need to press the button twice, otherwise it will blow the horn. The intent is that it is to be used only if we do not remember if we locked the car in the first place. By pressing the button twice, we are telling my neighbors that we often forget that we locked the car or they might think we are honking on purpose. Since I would not want my neighbors to think that I forget often or that I am doing it on purpose, kindly press on the button ONCE please.

Thank You!

HornFree.org

HONDA

Congratulation for your nice Honda. I have one myself and I love it.

Here is a little advice in case you did not have time to read the Instruction Manual. Our car maker has made our car with an intelligent locking device. We only need to press the locking device button ONCE and it locks the car. We do not need to press the button twice, otherwise it will blow the horn. The intent is that it is to be used only if we do not remember if we locked the car in the first place. By pressing the button twice, we are telling my neighbors that we often forget that we locked the car or they might think we are honking on purpose. Since I would not want my neighbors to think that I forget often or that I am doing it on purpose, kindly press on the button ONCE please.

Thank You!

HornFree.org